Subject: Notarizing letters

Importance: High

Per our Legal Department, when you notarize a document without a notary attestation clause you will need to add it to the document you are notarizing. Every document that requires notarization must contain an attestation clause whether it's an acknowledgement, affirmation, affidavit, oath, etc. This attestation clause is to be carefully completed by the Notary after the principal has signed the document. This same attestation clause describes under what circumstances the principal signed, affirmed, or executed the document.

Many times customers will come into the center with a letter or some form they have devised themselves and the clause is missing. You will need to add the following to these types of documents:

STATE OF TENNESSEE COUNTY OF HAMILTON

Personally appeared before me, a Notary Public for the state and county aforesaid, Marti Rutherford, with whom I am personally acquainted (or proved to me on the basis of satisfactory evidence), and who acknowledged that he/she executed the within instrument for the purposes therein contained.

WITNESS my hand and official seal, this 31st day of January, 2008

Monica Jefferson
NOTARY PUBLIC

My Commission Expires: October 6, 2009

Please remember do not notarize birth certificates.
